BOGUS MASON WAS RELEASED

MYRON BUCK GOT MONEY FROM THREE UTICANS.

RELEASED ON A PROMISE

Prisoner Said He Would Settle in Two Weeks and Was Allowed to Go—Milkman in Court for Filling Bottles on the Street.

Myron Buck, charged with obtaining money on the plea that he was a Mason in distress, talked his way to freedom in City Court this forenoon. It was a clear case against Buck. John E. Peters told how the prisoner approached him a month ago and asked him for assistance, saying that he was a member of a lodge at Plattsburg. Peters let Buck have $5 and the prisoner gave him in exchange an order on a Chicago life insurance company which proved worthless. A letter from the lodge at Plattsburg pronounced Buck a fraud. It was learned that he had also secured small sums from Clarence Stetson and Fred L. Coggeshall.

When arraigned before Special City Judge Lewis, Buck admitted getting the money from Mr. Peters, but asserted that he was and is a Mason and that he did not intend to commit a fraud. He is a tall man with a smooth face and gray hair, that gives him the appearance of a stranded tragedian, and he proceeded to release a long and earnest plea, which finally moved the Court to let him go on a promise to settle inside of two weeks.

Mr. Peters said that he was satisfied that Buck had at some time been a Mason, but from the advices from Plattsburg it was evident that he is not now in good standing. In prosecuting the fellow he acted more from a desire to stop an imposition than to bring about the old man's punishment. During his residence in this city, two and a half months, Buck has roomed at 30 Broad street.

Robert Evans, a milkman, was arraigned in court this forenoon charged by Inspector McGee of the health department, with filling a milk bottle on the street. Evans said that he was pouring some milk into a bottle at the corner of Steuben and Louisa streets for the purpose of taking a drink, when Inspector McGee rushed out of a saloon and grabbed the bottle. The prisoner explained that he never went into saloons or drank any of the beverages sold in such resorts, always taking a draught of his own stock when thirsty. As he could not conveniently lift a milk can to his lips, and it would be deucedly bad form to drink out of a dipper, he used a bottle.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Lee appeared for the city and Inspector McGee testified that he had seen Evans filling bottles on the street on previous occasions, but did not make an arrest because he had no witness with him. The penalty provided by the ordinance is $25 fine. Evans said he had on one occasion taken bottles into a house and washed and filled them. According to the ordinance this is also a violation so the prisoner stood convicted on his own statement. After talking the matter over, Mr. Lee said that the department did not wish to be harsh nor severe and, as the offender declared that he had been ignorant of the rules, he suggested a suspended sentence. Evans, accordingly, was discharged.

Salvatore Stephano, aged 14, was arrested on complaint of Joseph Tady, who conducts a store on Bleecker street. Tady alleged that the boy stole a shirt and cap from his store. The youth said there were two others engaged in the affair. The complainant finally withdrew the charge and the boy was released with a warning.

James Lynch, charged with vagrancy, said he was from Rome. When questioned as to persons and places in that city he seemed strangely ignorant. As to his residence he said he lived on Front street and that he worked for a liveryman named Bishop. He did not succeed in passing the examination and went to jail for 30 days.

Frank Clark was arrested after he had sold a suit of clothes for $2.50 and a razor for 20 cents, on suspicion that he had not honestly come by the goods. He declared that the articles belonged to him, but, as he ran when the officer spoke to him, his story was doubted and he was sent to jail for 30 days.

John Sullivan, charged with public intoxication, was given a sentence of $10 or 30 days. It was only a few days since John had been in court.

Harry Myna, Fred Crawford, Howard Klinge, Herman Hofgren and James Daly, charged with vagrancy, were discharged.

George Gwilt was arraigned yesterday forenoon in City Court on the charge of robbery in the third degree and held to await the action of the Grand Jury. Edward Lynch charged Gwilt with taking $42 from him Saturday morning. The two met in the vicinity of Post avenue and had several drinks together; then Lynch became unconscious and did not reach home until 1 o'clock in the afternoon, when he discovered that his money was gone. He reported the matter to the police and said he thought he might have been drugged.

Tony Giffune was brought into court on the charge of violating Section 465 of the Penal Code. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set down for January 27 at 10 a. m. The complainant in the case is Milford Weaver, who claims that on January 18 the defendant forcibly entered the premises 14 Canal street, of which the deponent was then in possession.

Dr. William A. Ryan, who for about six months was interne at the General Hospital, has resigned that position and has opened an office in the Crumb Block at 199 Park avenue. Dr. Ryan has lived in Utica a number of years and graduated from the Syracuse Medical University last June. He resigned his position on January 11, to begin practice for himself.

Fire at Capron.

Fire that may have been caused by friction, but the exact origin of which is unknown, was discovered [illegible] of the [illegible] Cottell Company's plant at Capron this morning. It was extinguished by employees. The loss a [illegible] portion of which resulted in that and other departments from the water used to put out the flames has not been estimated. When word of the fire reached New Hartford John Lonsdale had the village hose cart hitched on to his cutter and W. R. Childs drove out to the mill. The fire had been extinguished, however, before their arrival.

FAMOUS CURLERS IN UTICA TO-DAY

PLAYED ANNUAL MATCH WITH UTICA AT RUTGER RINK

FOR THE CRAWFORD CUP

Thirteen Members of Grieve Aggregation Arrived on Empire State—Uticans Prepared for To-day's Match by Victory at Schenectady.

Thirteen members of the Grieve aggregation of curling players landed in Utica shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon on the Empire State Express from New York to play the annual match game for the Crawford cup. The following members of the club, one of the most important in the curling circles of New York State, consists of George Grieve, J. F. Conley, John Leslie, R. MacGregor, G. W. Peene, S. A. Peene, David Morrison, A. Sims, Forrest McKnee, T. McVicar, J. MacGregor and W. D. Edwards. The party dined at a local hotel and proceeded immediately to the rink, where by the mere donning of the trim Scotch caps they were transformed into one of the crack teams in the North. The ice was in fine condition for the match, and the "stone" never slid over the surface so smoothly. The match game was started at precisely 2 o'clock.

The following skips were picked to represent Utica some time ago: Mr. Brinckerhoff, Harry Riding, Lawrence Riding, J. H. Bowne, John E. Loughlin. The members chosen have picked up their "players" but the names of those selected were not announced.

The Utica members are primed for one of the fastest games of the season and all are in good playing shape. Most of those who are to represent Utica beat the skillful team from Albany Saturday at Schenectady, when Utica beat the skilful team from Albany. It was a four team match. Utica played Albany and Schenectady met a team from New York. Schenectady beat the men from the metropolis. After the first set of games had been completed, Utica met the victorious men from Schenectady and were defeated.

The Grieve aggregation has just won the championship of New York State at a recent match in Van Cortland Park, New York City, by defeating crack teams from Brooklyn and Yonkers.

The cup, to decide the ownership of which the match is held to-day, was dedicated to the club several years ago by George Crawford of the Grieve aggregation. It is to remain in the custody of the Utica club even though won by some other organization. It is now rightfully in the possession of the local club, having been won by the Utica team last year.

During the game refreshments were served and at 6 o'clock this afternoon an elaborate collation will be served under the direction of a local caterer.

INSPECTOR DOES NOT CENSURE ATTENDANTS

DR. RUSSELL INVESTIGATES HOSPITAL MANAGEMENT.

NOTHING WRONG SO FAR

Even Little Falls Doctor, Employed by Informant, Says Attendants Did Nothing They Were Not, Apparently, Obliged to Do.

Dr. William L. Russell of Poughkeepsie, the medical inspector of the State Lunacy Commission, commenced an investigation to-day of the management of the Utica State Hospital upon the complaint of Miss Amelia Bingham of Little Falls and her attorney, A. H. Bellinger, who charge that Miss Bingham's sister, Mrs. Louisa Kirch, was maltreated by attendants. Late this afternoon Dr. Russell said that he found nothing improper in the conduct of the attendants towards Mrs. Kirch.

Dr. E. H. Douglass of Little Falls, who was employed by Miss Bingham to make an examination of her sister, did so this morning in the presence of Lawyer Bellinger, Dr. Russell, Dr. Palmer, the superintendent of the hospital, Miss Bingham and several of the hospital corps. He said after making the examination and observing the conduct of the patient, that in his opinion the attendants had done nothing they were not obliged to do.

Dr. Russell also examined 12 nurses this morning, who have at various times had Mrs. Kirch in charge. He said this afternoon:

"While I am not at liberty to say what my report will be, I will say that up to the present time I have found nothing wrong. Mrs. Kirch is a very restive case. I had an opportunity to observe this when I went to the hospital building this morning. She refused to pass through a door and it took two attendants to carry her through.

"There are some discolorations on her arms, but she is not injured in any way and there are no evidences of her having been beaten or misused in the way Miss Bingham states in her affidavit. These discolorations have been caused by the attendants taking hold of her in order to prevent her from doing some injury to herself or to some one else."

Dr. Russell added that he was now waiting for further evidence which Mr. Bellinger promised, but which he had failed to produce. This was all he lacked to complete the examination, which he said would be finished to-day.

She visited Cassidy's undertaking rooms to-day and identified the body as that of her son.

Mrs. Eddy said that recently young Eddy had been working for the Continental Tool Company at Frankfort. He had several times said that he "was tired of living" and that he "would get out of it some way." About a year ago he made an attempt at suicide at her home in Edmeston by taking laudanum, but failed to accomplish his purpose. Mrs. Eddy was informed by Mr. Carney, at Frankfort, that Eddy tried suicide again at his hotel a month or two ago by taking the same drug. The remains will be taken to Edmeston to-night.

The friends of "Jimmie" Shanahan, the local walking artist, are disappointed at his poor showing in Saturday night's big walking match at Herkimer. "Jimmie" claims his defeat was caused by eating a piece of chocolate pie previous to the start. His friends say that there was evidently a lemon in the pie. The Little Falls people lost considerable money as a result of the match.

The colored A. M. E. Zion Church last night passed resolutions of sympathy on the death of the late Rev. Father W. H. White of St. Mary's Church.
